Dear Sir,

I urge you to allow citizens to have access to hydrazine sulfate. There have been studies that have not been effective, but there have also been studies with positive results, i.e, Dr. Gold's work. Until there is definitive proof in this matter, people should have access to this product. There is a huge body of work done in Russia over many years showing that hydrazine sulfate was able to stop, and even reverse, tumor growth in may cancer patients. You should look at all the studies that have been done with this product. The study that was done by the NCI did not follow the protocol established Dr. Gold, that was unfortunate.

Why does it look as though the FDA will follow in lock step with the huge "Cancer Industry" in the U.S. This is such an inexpensive treatment, the Cancer Industry would not like it if it was accepted. I maintain that the citizens should be allowed to use what treatment they prefer.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

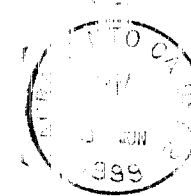

Ginny Cuny
